

THE STEWARDSHIP PAPERS

Cheers for a Choice Chuckle

I wanted to write something serious, today...

but it just isn't in me.

It happens that way...

When nothing is serious,

and everything's puns...

ones

that make sense in a crazy array

and some

that start giggles and keep them that way.

Where do they come from?

I really can't say.

But life wasn't always like this...

Yesterday...

But, yesterday's flown;

it's no longer here.

Why, yesterday hasn't been here for a year.

Now the "sillies" have come

and it's simply because yesterday was what yesterday was.

Mournful and comforted,

hungry and fed,

searching and finding,

lost and then led.

Throughout the Bible it's often been said,

In words much more plainly, what other laws state:

That actions and reactions interrelate.

But, back on the home front

it's easily seen

what words in a book

can really mean.

So, now in a state

of euphoric delight,

I'm happy

'cause everything's turning out right!
