

Never Give Up

Isn't it nice that we didn't give up
When we were just babies and lay on the floor?
We didn't know then what time had in store.

When learning to scooch, when learning to crawl
When learning to walk after many a fall.
We didn't give up. Heavens no! Not at all!

Isn't it nice that we didn't give up
When attempts at our talking (when we were still young)
Confused those who listened and tangled up a poor tongue?

When leaning to read, when learning to write
We tried and we tried with all of our might.
To give up, discouraged, just didn't seem right.

No matter how young, no matter how old
To "never give up" is the right thing, I'm told.
After all, who knows what the future may hold?

How lucky I am to know someone like you.
We'll never give up on each other. It's true.
Because we both know it's...The Right Rhing To Do.
